

Evertex Fabrinology Limited

At evertex, where passion breeds innovation.

Evertex Fabrinology Limited is a vertically integrated fabric manufacturer that focuses on product development and innovation for outdoor enthusiasts. Our passion for the outdoors has led us to develop a highly disciplined practice resulting in the utmost respect for the profession and the environment.

Here at Evertex, our relentless efforts to innovate high-performing, sustainably-made fabrics have rewarded us with a myriad of credentials and recognition. This has also presented us with the opportunity to work with distinguished clients in the field, such as Arc' teryx in Canada, Peak Performance & Norrøna in Scandinavia.

Major Products:

BulkyStretch™ collection is an advanced 100% polyester knit collection that incorporates Bulky Stretch Yarn (B.S.Y.). This multi-functional collection offers super-soft, less see-through fabrics with minimal sheen and a bulky hand feel. The fabrics in this series are light in terms of weight, despite being bulkier and denser. They also have great stretch and resilience owing to their unique yarn make-up and dense construction.

Tonissimo® collection is a highly durable, synthetic fleece collection engineered for lightweight warmth, breathability and mobility during cold excursions. It consists of strategically mapped structures to create a myriad of insulating air pockets to trap body heat, and also highlights good stretchability for a snug fit.
